DPS Co-Living

Professional Recovery Housing for Men

*A safe place to live. A structured environment to grow.
A community to move forward with.*

DPS Co-Living provides high-quality, sober living homes for men who are committed to recovery and building a better future. We combine structure, support, and accountability with the comfort of home—so you can focus on what matters most: healing, growth, and long-term success.

You Are Not Alone.

A community of support, purpose, and accountability—helping men move forward and stay on track.
